

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGIES LLC

InformationTechnologiesllc.net
(801) 668-8441

Application Lifecycle Management

❖ Application management is a partnership.

- AT IT You work with personnel who you know and who know you, your business and your concerns
- You have direct contact with those who get the work done. As a result you know more than you need to know about progress and issue affecting your projects.
- You are a member of the team. You are a governing member with the ability to direct the flow of activity.

❖ Listening +:

- A service provider must do more than listen. A service provider must listen and confirm, review and revise.
- Service requirements are understood thoroughly and mutually agreed and defined.

It is not difficult for Information Technologies LLC to provide guarantees. It simply requires working in partnership, maintaining communication, listening, reviewing, and revising. At the end all services are functional as specified, with no exceptions.

Expertise

Information Technologies draws from a large global pool of expertise and is able to target specific needs aligning them with unique resources. There is not a size that fits all. At Information Technologies LLC every assignment is a unique mixture most effectively supported with targeted teams.

Experience

The Information Technologies LLC team leadership individually has over thirty years of experience in all aspects of software development, maintenance, and support. They have performed Hands on development coding and testing, Requirements analysis and development, Database design, Database administration, System Administration and application support.

Priority

Information Technologies LLC is not a publicly traded company. Why is this important? It is important because in a publicly traded company stock price is at least as important as product quality and customer service. This fact has, in some cases, led to disastrous consequences for customers. Information Technologies LLC is a private company whose customers are its life's blood, and no one else.